CRACKERS POP IN CHINATOWN

Celestials Welcome Coming of Their New Year.

FIRST THEY PAY OFF DEBTS

THEN GIVE THEMSELVES OVER TO MERRIMENT.

The deafening reports of a thousand popping crackers, mingled with the weird music of the Chinese "bands" course of people in the tabernacle yes-

ing. Past differences will for the time be forgotten, and "Chinks" of all ranks will mingle together about the gaming boards and woo the fickle goddess of fortune with dice, dominoes fortune with dice, dominoes

War Made on Dirt. The residents of Salt Lake's Chinatown have been busy for the past week cleaning up their houses and making preparations for the advent of the new year. Even the most dingy joints have been renovated and decorated in a suit-able manner. The rooms are bedecked in gandy colors, and countless oil lamps and tallow candles will burn throughout the festal period to protect the bouse out of the hands of the evil the adquarters where he deposited $100 dience the remainder of the winter and as an earnest of the best the city o'clock.

TALKS IN RIVAL PULPIT

Frederick M. Smith, a "Josephite" Leader. Makes an Address in Tabernacle.

Frederick M. Smith, son and coun-elor of President Joseph Smith of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, or 'Josephiles,' and associate editor of the Latter-day Saints' Heraid, was a speaker at the Labernacle yesterday afternoon. He came to Saif Lake to attend the reunion last week of members of the Smith family, to commemorate the anniversary of the birth of Hyrun Smith. Although he represents a branch of the church which always refused to countered weird music of the Chinese "bands" and the shouts of a horde of gleeful Celestials, announced to the "Mellican man," that the Chinese new year is at hand. Early last evening the denizens of Plum alley began firing officerackers to frighten away the evil spirits so that when the new year arrived at midulght all would be serene. For abount a week the Celestials throughout the world will enjoy one prolonged holiday. During that time the noodle-joints and wash houses will be closed and business will be entirely suspended while the Celestials pass away the hours in feasting and carousing. Past differences will for the time tion," which was the teaching of Joseph Smith.

Music and Drama

Held added one to his laurels last night, and a big one, too. Besides his, he sustained his deserved reputathroughout the festal period to protect the house out of the hands of the evilones.

The new year holiday is set apart by the Chinese as a period of worship and amusement. The entire "half a moon" is given up to worshiping their ancestors, proplitating their gods, to amusement and to almost anything except work. A ban is placed upon labor of any kind, and a Celestial who is sacreligious enough to work during this holiday is certain to have bad luck for the entire ensuing year.

Day of Tea and Gossin. for the entire ensuing year.

Day of Tea and Gossip.

New year's is "calling day" for the Chinese as well in American social circles. At this period the Celestials visit among themselves, drink tea, gossip and act much after the same fashion as do the society dames of our own country.

One of the peculiar customs of the Chinamen is the paying of debts before the arrival of the new year. Before midnight last night every Chinaman was supposed to have paid any debts that he owed in order to begin the new year correctly. To neglect to liquidate all outstanding obligations is liquidate all outstanding obligations is obliged to return again, singing a dain unpardonable sin in the eyes of the Chinese, and any Celestial who fails to ries Me." Perhaps no one charmed th chinese, and any Celestial who falls to abide by the ancient custom is sure to be pursued by the evil spirits. In China, it is said, it is not an uncommon thing to see a debtor out the night before the new year armed with a lantern, searching for his creditors.

Policeman Enters Zang Saloon and Policeman Enters Zang Saloon and the 'cellist, was at a disadvantage for Arrests Bartender.

Edward Broughton, the bartender at the Zang saloon was arrested yesterday afternoon for violating the Sunday liquer ordinance. This is the first time the police have been able to catch the house selling liquor on Sunday.

George Moore, the new policeman, dressed in citizens' clothes succeeded in passing the door keeper at the entrance n the rear of the saloon. He found a ber was well done and the few sele dozen men sitting in the back rooms tions were among the best in its rep drinking. He ordered the house closed ertoire. It is promised that Held ha and Broughton was taken to police some good things in store for his au headquarters where he deposited $100 dience the remainder of the winter
